HONGKONG, August 14th, 1901

The schools falling within the purview of the local Inspectorate may be divided into two classes—Government schools and Grant-in-aid schools. In the former lot, the teachers' salaries are disbursed by the Government, and, with the exception of the Bellis Public School, education in them is free; in the latter, the schools are maintained wholly or partly by the Government grant awarded after annual examination. The Chinese schools under this head exact no fees, while the English schools, with a single exception, do. The summary eviction of our community from the central district—a subject we have previously dealt with—and the settlement of very big numbers of these people in the western parts of the city, have had a deplorable effect on the poorer schools in Saiying-pun and Kennedy Town. This was, however, more or less inevitable. The serious question of rent has also played no inconsiderable havoc with many institutions; and, as there seems every reason to believe that house-property has not even yet reached its maximum appreciation, the absolute existence of many schools is endangered. Mr. Bazwin points out that since 1893, the year prior to the first plague visitation, there has been a loss, in Victoria and Kowloon combined, of twenty-one schools that supplied the wants of just under a thousand scholars. This is indeed lamentable, and immediate steps should be taken to remedy it. We think Mr. Bazwin's suggestion of an increased grant is well worthy of consideration. The Government benefits very considerably by the enhanced value of proerty, for, by the Report of Mr. CHAPMAN, the Assessor, the rateable value of the entire Colony for this year, compared with that of 1899, shows the substantial increase of 17.43 per cent. It is gratifying to know that the total number of children on the rolls for last year, in spite of the many drawbacks, is a record; that the percentage of absentees is smaller than in the previous year; and that the number acquiring a grounding in English shows steady increase. Beginning with 1892, when Dr. E. J. EITZ was at the head of the Educational Department, the number of Government Schools has been gradually lessened. It was imagined that these schools might be automatically and more economically replaced by Grant-in-aid establishments. It is now seen that the scheme has not succeeded as well as was expected; because, of the twenty-two schools closed, only eleven have been replaced. Seven other Grant-in-aid institutions were opened at different times, to take the place of schools closed, but after an ineffectual struggle had to shut their doors, although it is stated that two of them may eventually be reopened. The present Inspector of Schools significantly remarks that at least five of these Government Schools ought never to have been done away with. In one of his statistical tables, Mr. BAZWIN has inserted a column which we do not remember having noticed before, and which is of the highest interest. It shows the ratio which the amount spent on education bears to the Colony's general revenue. This ratio now stands at the ridiculously low figure of 1.66 per cent. This is very far removed from what it should be. In England and Wales, the amount spent on elementary education is about 5 per cent of the national income. Paragraph 17 of this Report tells us that four Free Scholarships at Queen's College were awarded in March. These are of the aggregate value of about $100 per annum. Years ago, when the Colony was not so thriving as it now is, and when its future looked much less brilliant than at the present moment, in the days when the late Sir GEORGE BOWEN was Governor, a valuable Government Scholarship of £200 sterling per annum, available for three years, was open for competition to the students of English throughout the Colony. To the discredit of all concerned, for some short-sighted reason or other—decreasing revenue could certainly not be alleged—this splendid Scholarship was discontinued. If we remember rightly, it was won on three occasions; first by Queen's College, then known as the Government Central School, afterwards by St. Paul's College, and on the last occasion by St. Joseph's College; honours being thus fairly divided. A Scholarship of an exactly similar nature is still offered in the Straits Settlements. We think that the Government might, with advantage, revive this lapsed Scholarship. There can be no question of the beneficial stimulus that such a prize would give to all grades of education in Hongkong.

The coolie who murdered another coolie at the Government Civil Hospital last week is still at large.

At a meeting of the Royal Colonial Institute on 11th July, Mr. D. Warren Smith, late of Hongkong, was elected a Fellow.

The Hon. Treasurer of the Alice Memorial and Netherdale Hospitals begs to acknowledge, with thanks, the following donation to the funds of the Hospitals:—Ho Ngok Lan, $50.

The return of visitors to the City Hall Library and Museum for the week ending 12th August shows that 362 non-Chinese and 128 Chinese visited the Library, 179 non-Chinese and 1,857 Chinese the Museum.

On Sunday night Lance Sergeant Watt was on duty near Canton Wharf when he saw a man coming along with a bundle. On stopping him and searching the bundle he found it contained letters which the man was evidently going to take to Canton. He was charged with a breach of the Post Office Ordinance yesterday and fined $100, or two months.

Between seven and eight o'clock on Saturday night a Chinaman residing at 73, Queen's Road Central, retired to have a bath. As the lamp was burning low he took up a tin of oil to replenish it, the light still burning. The oil thus became ignited; the lamp exploded and the man was badly burned about the head. He was taken to the Central Police Station and from there to the Hospital.

Last week a Chinaman presented himself at the Central Police Station and charged a man, whose name he gave, for assaulting him by throwing a kerosine oil can at him. The Inspector in charge investigated the complaint, but as no corroboration whatever was forthcoming he refused the charge, and made an entry to that effect in the book provided for the purpose. At about two o'clock yesterday morning the man who made the complaint was found dead in his quarters at No. 2, Gilman's Bazaar, Queen's Road, and his clansman reported the matter to the police, alleging that the man had died as the result of the assault made upon him last week. The man said to have committed the assault was arrested. In the meantime the body was examined by the medical men connected with the jail, and as they certified that plague was the cause of death the man who had been arrested was let go.

Wong Po, a coolie in the employ of A. S. Watson & Co., was yesterday sentenced to two months' hard labour for stealing 10 aerated water bottles.

During the 48 hours preceding noon yesterday there were reported nine fresh cases of plague and nine deaths. The figures for last week were 29 fresh cases and 22 deaths.

A scratch race of the Hongkong Boat Club will hold on Monday 3rd September. The following are the crews:—
A. Hance G. C. Fullerton C. Herbst
J. Hance G. Young J. Danley
G. B. Stevens T. Wild J. Wilson
H. Bain J. Winterburn S. Stevens

The Sketch for July 11th contains an excellent full-length portrait of Major-General Gascoigne, C.M.G., Commander of the troops at Hongkong, and says of him:—"Major-General Gascoigne's career has been such that little anxiety need be felt as to his fulfilment of any part he may be required to take."

According to Japanese papers, the new Japanese cruiser Azuma (9,456 tons), which has been constructed in France, sails for home on the 29th July, while the first-class battleship Aashi (15,447 tons) left England on the following day for home. These warships may be expected in Japan some time in October next.

At the offices of the Public Works Department yesterday afternoon Mr. G. J. W. King offered for competition five lots of Crown land at Mong Kok Tai, Kowloon, Kowloon Inland lot No. 1,101 was sold to Lau Chin Ting for $5,710 (upset $5,550). Chinese houses are to be erected thereon. There were no bids for any of the four other lots.

At about 8.45 on Saturday night Indian constable No. 622 was on duty in Yau-mat when he saw a man named Lo Sam gambling with sticks. On the constable going up to him the man tore his jacket and attempted to strike him. Another constable found him on the ground surrounded by a crowd of coolies, who were beating him. He arrested the defendant, the others running away. At the Magistracy yesterday the man was fined $3, or 14 days, for gambling, and $15, or a month, for the assault, being also ordered to pay $7 compensation.

Luk Li, keeper of a brothel in Ship Street, was yesterday charged on remand with taking part in purchasing one Lau Sai Kua for the purposes of prostitution. The girl said she was a married woman. Her husband was a coolie in Hongkong and sometimes at Yau-mat. Her husband sold her on the 13th May to the defendant. It was not the fault of the defendant that she bought her. She did not force her to be a prostitute. She had no money and her husband could not support her, so she became a prostitute. The defendant was discharged.

The Daily Chronicle says:—"The trouble in China has seriously accentuated the unfavourable outlook in the Lancashire cotton industry, already hampered by the Indian famine, dear cotton, and the high price of coal. The most trustworthy estimates place the number of looms standing in Burnley at about two thousand, and it is considered certain that this number will be largely increased shortly. One of the largest firms in Burnley has given notice to stop a fortnight at the annual holidays, and a meeting of the trade has been convened to discuss a general curtailment of production."

The four-masted British barque Calgate, an old trader to this port, has recently made a record-breaking run from Shanghai to the mouth of the Columbia, covering the distance from buoy to buoy in twenty-seven days. The nearest approach to this record is said to have been made by one of Renton Holmes & Co.'s four-masted schooners which made the run from Shanghai to the Sound in twenty-eight days. The Calgate's biggest day's performance was 295 miles, but in a ten days run she reeled off 2,600 miles, an average of over 11 miles an hour.

It is not often that a knowledge of European foreign languages assists officers of the Indian Staff Corps in their efforts to be selected for service, states a Straits paper. Persian and Pushtu are usually better passports at army headquarters than French or Russian. But in the case of the present expedition to China good European linguists find that they are in request. Thus among the eleven special service officers, all save one, are Indian officers, and among them we find two who know French, German and Russian; three with qualifications in French, and three others with a knowledge of Russian. As regards Chinese there are very few officers who have so far studied that language, but three who have passed some of the tests have been given employment, and the services of more might well be utilized.

At about eight o'clock on Saturday night the captain and chief engineer (both Chinamen), of a steam tug belonging to Messrs. Butterfield and Swire were walking towards Shaan-tai when they were set upon by three men. One seized the captain by the queue, snatched his watch and handed it to one of the others, and then knocked the captain down. The engineer had his umbrella taken from him and he was vigorously disabused with it, so much so that he thought discretion the better part of valour and took to his heels, calling out lustily for the police. A Chinese constable heard his cries and came forward. On seeing the constable the men ran away, but the limb of the law was too fleet of foot for one of them, whom he caught and took to the police station. It transpired that this man had had some trouble with the captain, and it is surmised that he got two friends to join him in making an attack on him by way of revenge. The man was brought before Mr. Hazeland yesterday and remanded until to-day.

The U. S. S. Princeton left Shanghai on the 9th inst. for the north.

H. M. S. Arctura reached Yokohama from Esquimaux on the 20th ult. on her way to Taku, whither she has now arrived.

The exodus of the better class Chinese from Shanghai is gradually decreasing, and the number of passengers from Shanghai to Ningpo is normal once more.

A Paris telegram dated the 13th ult. says that the French Admiral Pothier, the commander of the China squadron, has appointed Captain Viand ("Pierre Loti"), now travelling in India, as his chief aide-de-camp.

A horseman named Herman Singh was yesterday charged with allowing certain cattle to enter the water-works at Po Hang on the 11th inst., when 28 cows were found in the water. A fine of $100, or three months, was imposed.

Another large Chinese acquisition of land in the Colony is reported. The whole of the Humphreys Estate and Finance Co.'s property at West Point, known as the Richmond Estate, and comprising Inland Lots 1216 and 609 has been sold to a Chinese Syndicate for $199,000.

In the Yokohama Ku Saisanbō on Thursday morning the 2nd instant, before Judge Danne, Mr. J. R. Weston, second engineer of the steamer Victoria, was sentenced to seven days' detention on a charge of having assaulted a Japanese on board the ship, causing him three days' incapacitation from work. The accused has expressed his intention to appeal.

The following typhoon warning, was issued from Manila Observatory at 10.30 a.m. yesterday. "Depression is probably forming in the Pacific east of Manila." A second warning was issued from Manila Observatory at 12.30 p.m.:—"The typhoon in the Pacific N.E. of Manila between 18th and 20th parallels is moving probably North Westwards."

On the 9th inst. a Requiem Mass for the late King of Italy was held at St. Joseph's Church, in the French Settlement, Shanghai. All the Consuls were present, as were the Tao-tai and representatives of the Councils, Mixed Courts, Volunteer Corps, and the men-of-war in the neighbourhood. A detachment of the Fierissima blue-jackets lined the central aisle.

The Times of the 12th ult. says:—"The report that the Victoria, battleship, Captain C. H. Cross, has been ordered to proceed from the Mediterranean to China is incorrect. This vessel remains with the rest of the squadron under the command of Vice-Admiral Sir John Fisher. The immediate need in the Far East is for cruisers and small craft able to navigate the inland waters of China."

SWATOW.

[FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.]

Swatow, 9th August.

FRESH ATTACKS ON MISSIONS.

Last night word came of the destruction of four more chapels in the Ung-kung (Hwang-kong) district, viz. the E.P. and A.B. chapels in Kow-thong, and the A. B. chapels in Sia-tung and Shuk-kaw-san. In several instances the houses of church members were looted and everything taken except the clothes on their backs. The authorities seem paralyzed. The Roman Catholic priest at Ung-kung, the Rev. Alexander Legros, is said to have hired a large number of armed men to defend the premises of the Jesuit Mission with those who have taken refuge there.

BRITISH CRUISER ARRIVES.

A British cruiser—the Mohawk, I believe—came in this morning, and this fact when known will doubtless have a good influence. The prefect of Chow-chon-fa on being asked to protect mission property in that city would only say that he would do what he could in a quiet way, but would take no measures involving publicity!

DESTRUCTION AT SO-LAI.

10th August.

News came yesterday of the destruction of the American Baptist chapel at So-lai. After looting it the mob tore it down and utterly demolished it. In some respects this mob marks an advance in lawlessness. Many were armed and they sought diligently for the native preacher to kill him. He escaped out of their hands, but his wife and little girls were not so fortunate. They stripped her and let her go, but started to carry off the children, though they soon let them go also. So-lai is in the Ung-kung district. As yet there are no reports of rioting in other sections. It is to be feared that some of these mobs may add murder to theft, if allowed to go unchecked.

THE MOVEMENT SPREADS.

11th August.

News comes to-day of the destruction of two more chapels, viz. those at Lai-pu-soa and the Kien city. At Lai-pu-soa the houses of the native Christians were looted before the chapel was attacked. It is rumoured that the officials at Ungkung have arrested three persons supposed to be connected with these riots. There are very few chapels left standing in the entire Kien of Jiao-pheng.

LOCAL MOVEMENTS.

H. M. S. Argonaut arrived here yesterday after a phenomenally fast passage from Singapore, which she left late on the 9th instant. We have already given her figures.

The transports Nadde and Wardha returned to Hongkong from the north yesterday, and left again with the Warora for the north. The Hsinung left for Singapore on Sunday night.

Yesterday the Russian armoured cruiser Admiral Nahimoff arrived in the harbour on her way north. Her principal figures are:—displacement 8,824 tons; i. h. p. 8,000; armour, belt 10 in., gun-position 7.8; deck 3; guns, eight 8 in., ten 6 in., ten Q.F., four 3-prs., six Maxims; torpedo-tubes 4; speed 16.7 knots; complement, 567.

The French gunboat Alouette also arrived yesterday, having left Saigon on the 7th.

THE RELIEF COLUMN.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

Tientsin, 31st July.

FINAL PREPARATIONS.

The advance is expected to take place sometime to-morrow. Everything, so far as I can observe, is ready, and the troops, especially the Indian portion, are eager to get in touch with the enemy. The junks, which contain the naval guns, stores, etc., are completed with their cargoes ready for moving. Captain Callaghan, R.N., of the Endymion, arrived yesterday, to take command of the Naval Brigade, with Commander Fraser, R.N., of the Phoenix, as second in command; and Lieut. Drummond, R.N., of the Terrible, commands the four naval 12-pounders. 350 Marines have been again landed from the fleet, and will join the Relief Column. The Bengal Lancers have arrived, and the Gorkhas are expected up to-day and several other regiments to-morrow. The railway from Tongku to this place is now in working-order, and a regular service of trains is running under Russian control, which facilitates the work considerably.

Tientsin, 5th August.

ON THE MARCH.

I am glad to announce that we are at last on the move, having commenced the forward movement at 3 a.m. this morning. Shortly after midnight we commenced to prepare for this second move towards the Celestial Capital. Our forces this time number 12,000, which will constitute the fighting column, leaving an ample number for the communications. A more seasoned body of troops it would be difficult to find, comprising as they do most of the troops that took part in the recent operations here. South African veterans of the Navy, and Indian troops, many of whom have their breasts marked with ribbon that has been earned in many a hard frontier fight. One could not help noticing the look of satisfaction that beamed on the faces of our Indian comrades as they moved out this morning, looking the pictures of happiness at having been selected to fight side by side with European troops—a great amendment after their disappointment at not going to South Africa. They are a force any general might feel proud to command. It was not long after the troops had been disposed that the advanced pickets got in touch with the enemy, who were entrenched about 3 miles from the Native City, and were very quickly driven out of their position by the Allies and got on the run. At the time of writing the Bengal Lancers were on their track for all they were worth, and I hear had fetched their first blood. The troops are rapidly following up and will not give them much time to rest. The Japanese especially seem anxious to keep them going, and these very troops are spinning past me as I sit on a transport wagon, keeping close in touch with the Terrible Naval Brigade, who are swearing like true Britons at not getting on fast enough to see the fun.

THE GUNS.

It is a cause for regret that Captain Scott has not got his 4.7 gun up to the front in time to move with us, as I hear he had promised to do so, although we were thankful for those he did send, which have immortalized themselves in Tientsin. It is a disappointment to many of us who had hoped to witness Lydiate chasing Boxers as it did the Boers, and it would have been a valuable present for the Empress at Peking. Quite a fleet of junks, gaily decorated with their national flags, are sailing up the river laden with stores, etc., and our hopes run high of soon joining hands with our countrymen in the Capital.

NAVY BUSY AT WORK.

H.M.S. Orlando came on this morning en route to Wooming to join Admiral Seymour's Flag. She will leave at daybreak to-morrow after taking in stores and ammunition. The Pigmy also arrived, and proceeds to Taku after coaling. Six deaths occurred amongst the wounded in hospital here during the past week, and they were buried with naval honours, by the crew of the Terrible, which still remains here as depot ship; Captain Scott being the Senior Naval Officer whilst the place is serving as the base for the British force. Over 100 head of cattle have been captured that were being driven round here from Chifoo, and some of the drovers killed, which shows that the province is very restless outside British and German spheres of influence; and it is generally believed that its future conduct will depend largely on the success of the Allies moving on Peking. Captain Scott has nearly completed his travelling carriage for the 4.7 gun; the work has been slow as everything has had to be done exclusively by hand labour, the ponderous wheels having been cut out of a sheet of solid iron, and the massive axle-boxes made on board—a large order for the resources of a ship of war. It is characteristic of the captain of the Terrible that nothing should stand between him and the accomplishment of anything he takes in hand, and it must have given him extreme satisfaction that Brigadier-General Downard in Command at the front during the exciting operations at and around Tientsin should have officially stated that it was entirely due to the guns of the Terrible, under Lieut. Drummond, that the success of the operations was due; and that it was the smartness and accuracy of their fire that demoralized the Chinese.

Admiral Sir E. Seymour before he left Tientsin also commended the performance of these gun crews, shaking hands with the whole gun crew of No. 1 gun.

Waihaiwei, 8th August.

THE LOSS OF THE JAPANESE DESTROYER.
The Japanese Destroyer Niji has become a total wreck. This smart little craft was quite new, having only been built last year and was on her maiden voyage from England. It appears that she was on her way to Japan and during the night of the 25th ult. she ran on the rocks near the S.E. promontory of the Shantung province, about 60 miles from this place—the weather at the time being very thick. One of her officers with 3 sailors obtained a sampan and worked their way to this port, and reported the occurrence to the Senior Naval Officer, Capt. Scott. The officer, who, with the great pluck characteristic of the Japanese, had lost no time in getting her, after making his report fell down completely exhausted on the deck, and had to receive medical attention. The Peacock was ordered to raise steam at once and proceed to the scene of the wreck, taking with her all the divers and apparatus from the Terrible under the charge of Mr. Mathew, R. N., gunner of that ship. Before leaving, the Japanese officer was sufficiently recovered to sail in her with his men. The Peacock left harbour in the afternoon of the 31st ult. and arrived shortly after dark near the place where it was supposed she had run ashore—but they could not see where she was. Three guns were fired, and the search-light burnt for some time, which elicited a rocket reply from the destroyer and showed her position. It was too late to do anything that night. Next morning the Peacock got under weigh and proceeded as close as was safe to the wreck. Diving was immediately commenced and carried on for two days. The vessel was examined inside and out, and it was found she had been badly damaged and wedged in between the rocks. Collision mats were placed in position, No. 2 compartment pumped out, and made watertight, and during the evening of the 2nd inst. an attempt was made to tow her off the rocks, which unfortunately failed.

A BREAK UP.

It was hoped to get her afloat next morning, but a heavy swell set in during the night, and the vessel commenced to bump, and before day-light next morning she broke in two; the Japanese crew just having time to save her 12-pounder (her largest gun). The divers, assisted by the ship's company of the Peacock, saved five smaller guns (6 prs), four torpedoes, and one anchor, and finding that nothing further could be done sailed for Waihaiwei. The captain of the Peacock was warmly thanked on behalf of the Japanese Government by the captain of the Niji before he left.

MISSIONARY REFUGEES IN HONG-KONG.

AN ACCOUNT OF THEIR ESCAPE.

There arrived in Hongkong yesterday morning from Yunnan-fu Mr. and Mrs. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, Dr. and Mrs. Savin, Mrs. Dymond and four children, and the Misses Campbell and Livingston of the China Inland Mission. They came through via Tenkin and had several remarkable escapes from death at the hands of the villagers, and others they met on their perilous journey. Mr. Harding kindly placed at our disposal a few facts connected with their flight, which will serve to show the decided anti-foreign feeling existing among not only the lower element of Chinese in the province, but also among those who sit in authority over them.

The party were the largest number of a band of missionaries (the others having escaped in the direction of the Burma frontier) labouring in the Yunnan Province, and for some years had continued their work for the most part unmolested by any of the populace, although for the past year or so there had been indications of a hostile spirit among the lower orders, which apparently only required a little prompting from their superiors to fan the embers of bitterness into a flame. The missionaries, however, continued their visiting and the many other duties devolving upon them, until the happening of the events which led up to their escape from the prefectural city on June 14th. Prior to this there had been loud whisperings of murder and pillage in the public thoroughfares, and for nearly a month small howling mobs used to collect in groups discussing the best means to carry out their nefarious designs. It is stated that this was engendered by the action of the French Consul in refusing to allow certain packages which he had brought into the city from Mengtse to be examined by the Chinese authorities, who openly asserted that he had with him a large quantity of guns and ammunition. To this charge he appeared to have been silent, and that only tended to aggravate the authorities, while his stern refusal to allow an inspection to be made strengthened their belief that they were contraband goods. He refused, however, to yield, and it was reported throughout the city that he had struck out of the searching party who had been sent specially to examine the packages by the Governor himself. Eventually he succeeded in getting his packages through without the usual inspection, and a few hours afterwards placards of an inflammable nature were posted on the walls round and on the South Gate, where a mob of several thousands had already congregated. It was openly asserted that evening that the French Consul would be murdered, and the mob, among themselves, discussed the best means of doing to death the man whom they considered had not only wilfully violated their law, but had beaten one of their leaders. Information as to this resolve reached the French Consul, and he decided to leave Yunnan-fu, with his staff, on June 14th. Among those whom he arranged to take with him were the French missionaries, but the Governor and the officials at the Yamen protested at this, and it was not till some hours afterwards that the Chinese gave way and the consular party were given an escort through the South Gate. Meanwhile the British missionaries were deliberating what steps they should take to secure their safety, and Mr. Harding, who was holding a service in the mission church, decided to stay for the time being, until matters assumed a more threatening form. He did not long to wait, for his "boy," almost at the close of the service, rushed into the building, and stated that the rioters had finally decided to kill all the foreigners. Mr. Harding then ordered a sedan chair and made the best of his way to his house, where Mrs. Harding was alone. On the way he had to pass the South Gate, and was there delayed for half-an-hour by one of the coolies stating he had to get a new pair of sandals. There, in the centre of a fierce and vicious mob numbering into thousands, he was fixed, but fortunately no one attempted to remove the coverings of the chair so as to expose him to view. He could hear the murderous threats of the mob, and when at last he did arrive home he found that they had handed together and were proceeding towards the house. Fortunately two sedan chairs were obtained, and in them both Mr. and Mrs. Harding sat, while the "boy" followed on behind to guide the coolies in their steps towards the Yamen. Reaching the mob they passed through, one of the crowd tearing down a portion of Mr. Harding's chair covering, but happily only exposing the feet. Mrs. Harding's chair covering was taken completely off, and she became the subject of the gibes and jeers of the fiendish nature. Eventually they reached the Yamen, where they found their fellow-missionaries who had passed through similar experiences. From there they could view the looting of their homes, and subsequently their burning to the ground. The mission chapel and the Roman Catholic College were also looted, and reduced to ashes. It was some days after this that the flight from the city took place, and notwithstanding all the entreaties which were brought to bear, an escort to the border was only provided when the missionaries agreed to accept, with the consent of their Consul, an indemnity for the wrong done them. Then followed a six weeks' journey on horse-back, through villages where people jeered and used murderous threats, and over plains where occasionally men would be met ready to attack if opportunity offered. A greater part of the journey had to be done alone, for the prefects absolutely refused to render any assistance, or provide an escort as a protection against the villainous soldiery. Their attitude was, as Mr. Harding said, "Go away; we don't want you," and other expressions were used of a far more hostile character. The rioting at Yunnan-fu, the traveller continued, was only suppressed by the authorities when every vestige of property had been looted, and the buildings rendered heaps of ruins. Some were beheaded, it was true, but not until the damage had been done. For instance, one man was found into a portion of Mrs. Harding's clothing, and he was instantly beheaded and his head hung up on a pole outside the ruined house. Prince Tuan, another of the travellers stated, only a few weeks ago, sent a telegram to the Governor asking him to massacre all foreigners; but the latter delayed taking any immediate action. The Provincial Treasurer was constantly in telegraphic communication with Li Hung-chang, his uncle, praying for advice, and it was (the rescued party believed) through Li's instructions that they were enabled to leave the city safely.

JAPANESE PREPARATIONS.
The transport Satsuna Maru, which recently grounded in Quelpert, has docked at Nagasaki, proceeding to China, with troops from Tokyo and Osaka.
The Sinokichi Maru has been chartered to convey wheelbarrows for the British army in North China.
The Red Cross Hospital ship Kosai Maru has arrived at Taku.
TRANSPORTS FROM THE STATES.
Mail advices from San Francisco state that the transport Sumner was to leave that port on the 18th ult. with 57 officers and 680 men, and arrangements had been made for the sailing of the Maude on the 1st instant with 80 officers, and 1,242 men. The Thomson was to be ready on September 16, and was to bring out 69 officers and 1,654 men, and the Grant prepared on October 1st to embark 68 officers and 1,836 men. It is rumoured that the First Californian Volunteers will again be on service, and will sail by either the a. s. Thomas or the a. s. Grant.

HONGKONG GENERAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

At the Monthly Meeting of the General Committee of the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce, held on Tuesday, the 7th August, at 11 a.m., Present: Hon. E. M. Gray (Chairman), Hon. J. J. Kewick (Vice Chairman), Messrs. A. Haupt, A. M. Marshall, B. L. Richardson, C. S. Sharp, N. C. Siebs, Hon. J. Thurburn ex officio, and R. C. Wilcox (Secretary).

MINUTES.

The minutes of the previous monthly meeting (held on the 16th July) were read and confirmed. THE VACANCY ON THE GENERAL COMMITTEE. The Chairman proposed that Mr. D. R. Law (the senior representative of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire) be elected to fill the vacancy on the Committee caused by the resignation of Mr. Herbert Smith.

This was seconded by the Vice-Chairman and carried unanimously.

THE CANADIAN MAIL CONTRACT.

Read letter from the London Chamber of Commerce acknowledging receipt of the Chamber's letter of the 14th May, enclosing copy of resolution in support of the renewal by the Imperial Government of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's contract for carrying the mails from Hongkong via the Pacific and Vancouver and announcing that it would be laid before the members of the East India and China, the Canadian, and the Postal Committees of that Chamber at their next meeting.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF THE BANKRUPTCY ORDINANCE.

The Chairman said this was an important matter, and he thought it fully deserved their consideration and support. The letters received from Mr. C. D. Wilkinson calling attention to the need of an amendment in the Ordinance had been circulated, and been carefully considered. He understood that the Chief Justice was already in favour of an amendment to the Ordinance, and he quite believed the Government would support any reasonable and practicable amendment they might suggest. The amendments to Secs. 5 and 6 of the Ordinance of 1891, drafted by Mr. Wilkinson, together with the sections themselves, had been drawn up for comparison. He personally did not quite grasp the legal technicalities, but they seemed to cover the ground.

A lengthy discussion followed, in the course of which the Hon. J. Thurburn pointed out that the amendments did not touch section 4, which, according to the judgment given by the Chief Justice in the case Kung Hing Shingkee debtors v. Albert Ahwee a creditor, seemed to require amendment equally with the two following sections.
The advisability of recommending that the amendment of the Bankruptcy Ordinance should be accompanied by legislation to secure the registration of partners in Chinese firms or hongs was discussed at length, and a strong opinion expressed that this was necessary to secure the proper working of the Bankruptcy laws.

Eventually it was decided to adjourn the matter to allow the Secretary time to confer with the legal authorities on certain points.

HONGKONG AND THE CANADIAN PREFERENTIAL TARIFF.

Read letter from the Government, dated 31st July, enclosing copy of despatch from the Secretary of State for the Colonies in reference to previous correspondence on the above subject, and calling special attention to Section 10 of the Memorandum on the Preferential Tariff Regulations.

The Chairman said he thought this cleared up the question as far as imports from say India were allowed to pass through Hongkong, but he could not see that it was an answer to their letter.

After some discussion, it was decided to again address the Government on the subject, and formally ask, through its medium, that Hongkong should be included in the list of those colonies entitled to participate in the benefits of the Canadian Preferential Tariff.

PROPOSED CHANGE OF LIGHTS ON GREEN ISLAND AND CAPE COLLINS LIGHTHOUSES.

A letter had been received from the Government, under date 2nd August, announcing that it had under consideration the advisability of transferring the Cape D'Agular light (discontinued since the erection of the lighthouse on Wai-lan to Green Island, and to remove the light at present on Green Island to Cape Collins, with a view to improving those lights and rendering the approaches to the harbour safer for shipping, and asking the Chamber's opinion upon the proposed transfers, which would, on a rough estimate, cost about $12,000.

The Secretary had secured the opinions of several experts, and a letter from Mr. F. D. Goddard was read, in which he expressed the opinion that the proposed change of the Cape D'Agular light to Green Island would be a decided advantage, the former being a let and the latter a 4th order light. With regard to the transfer of the Green Island to Cape Collins the same would apply, the latter being only a 6th order light; but a strong light was not necessary on Cape Collins, because when it is too thick to see a light outside of Tiantse Island, it is too thick to come in. Still, if the cost of shifting would not be too great, it is advisable to condemn the poorest light. This opinion was endorsed by other experts.

A lengthy discussion ensued, in the course of which the opinion was expressed by several members that as the revenue from the light dues left some balance the Government might go further and provide revolving or flash lights at both lighthouses, as the small stationary light at Cape Collins was often not distinguishable from a junk's light, while that at Green Island was only visible in clear weather at a distance of some four miles.

It was eventually decided to write in reply, suggesting that the proposed new lights at Green Island and Cape Collins should be improved by making them revolving or moving lights if the expense be not prohibitive.

This was all the business before the meeting.

HONGKONG AND WHAMPOA DOCK CO., LD.

The following is the report of the Board of Directors of the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Company, Limited, to the ordinary half-yearly meeting of shareholders, to be held at the offices of the Company, Queen's Buildings, Hongkong, on Monday, the 20th August, at 12 o'clock.

To the Shareholders of the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Company, Limited.
Gentlemen,—The Directors have now to submit to you their Report, with a Statement of Accounts for the half-year ended 30th June last. The net profit for the six months, after paying interest due and all charges, amounts to ... $598,028.30 to which has been added the balance brought forward from last Account ... 340,369.36

and from this have to be deducted—

Directors' Fees ... $8,000.00

Auditors' Fees ... 750.00

8,750.00

leaving available for appropriation ... $829,647.66

The Directors recommend that a dividend for the half-year of 8 per cent. or $125,000 and a bonus of 12 per cent. or $127,500 aggregating $322,500 be paid to the Shareholders, a bonus of $20,000 to contributing shareholders, that $282,000 be written from the value of the Kowloon Docks, $11,932.75 from the Cosmopolitan Dock, $5,000 from Steam Launches and the balance $356,236.75 be carried to the new account.

The Board is of opinion that having in view the permanent interests of the Company, it is desirable to deal with the surplus earnings in the manner shown above.

The large turn over at our establishments during the past half-year must be highly gratifying to Shareholders, indicating the steady expansion and prosperity of the Company's business, and confirming the policy followed by your Directors in providing with as little delay as possible, increased docking facilities and larger workshops more suited to our requirements.

The improvements, and extensions referred to in the last report are now well in hand, and are being pushed forward to the utmost of our ability. The new blacksmith shop at Kowloon was completed and has been occupied since January last; it has proved a most valuable acquisition to our resources.

[FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.]

Canton, 12th August.
CHINESE VIEWS REGARDING THE PRESENT CRISIS.

The following are the views of certain prominent Chinese on the situation.

In the disturbances up north, they say, soldiers and onslaws have been so mixed up as to render the task of suppression and protection very difficult. The murder of the German Minister and the Japanese Ambassador was of necessity followed by an outbreak of war between the Foreign Powers and China, the taking of Taku forts, the blockade of the river, and the destruction of Tientsin shows that Peking is not only in imminent danger, but it is like an egg about to be crushed to pieces by a huge stone. Although the Foreign Powers professed that they would not take China nor injure her people, their marching the troops on Peking does not show any good intention. Perhaps they like to march their troops to Peking to show their bravery. No doubt the burning of the churches, the massacre of Christians, the attack upon the foreign concessions and the murder of a Minister are injuries that go right into the core of their hearts and pierce their bones, so that they cannot rest satisfied until the Boxers are completely destroyed. Still it is the fault of China for which she feels deeply sorry and repentant. China has nursed a boil which has now turned into a carbuncle. The Boxers are only a lawless crowd prone to do evil, and there ought not to have been any difficulty destroying them; but as their influence has taken a deep root, and is spreading, China cannot destroy it so quickly; it is like a small spark that ignites and spreads itself out into a big fire that injures China as well as foreign countries, for which, the officials wherever they be, cannot plead any excuses. Imperial edicts have repeatedly appeared, one after another, in the newspapers, showing the friendly intention and respect of China for the foreign Powers, and urging the speedy suppression of Boxers; but as the lawlessness of the insurgents has assumed such magnitude, the military forces are insufficient to cope with them; hence we see the motives that compel the Powers to send their troops to the North. Imperial mandates have been sent to the Viceroy and Governors of nearly all the provinces, urging them to despatch troops north, and when the large bodies of troops arrive they will certainly sweep out all these fiendish and heretical monsters, so as to avenge the wrongs done to foreign Powers.

THE QUESTION OF THE MINISTERS.

But the most important personages are the Ministers; so long as we keep them in confinement, no overtone for peace would be for a moment listened to, and when their big troops arrive it will be too late for talk; consequently the keeping of their Ministers at Peking is also a source of great danger to us. The Viceroy of the provinces have received instructions from the Imperial Government informing them that the foreign Ministers are safe, and the Legations well protected, and have given repeated assurances of the same to the Consuls of the different nations. Is not reliable enough until the Ministers are seen marching under escort out of Peking? Who can tell what may happen on their way out. The Boxers are everywhere and are not yet entirely suppressed, and the forces of the Imperial army are weak; if any thing happens to them it will be worse still. This is the motive which the foreign Powers should take into consideration. No doubt the Powers have justifiable suspicions which are these: (1) However thick are the city gates, and however high the great walls, they are not as strong as a golden city. Is there any guarantee that the Boxers who are sneaking even in the Imperial harem could not have penetrated into the stronghold? (2) If the Ministers are safe in Peking, as it is said that they are, why on earth are they not allowed to send letters in their own manuscript, each to his country to satisfy his Sovereign? To this day no such letters have been sent. Where is the proof? These are the two circumstances which cause a great suspicion to the foreign Powers. Having these suspicions in their minds, notwithstanding the repeated assurance of all the Viceroy and Governors that they are safe, that the Legations are well protected, and that they will use all their best endeavours to protect the foreigners as well in their provinces, how is it possible to expect them to withdraw their troops? Upon our Emperor appealing to the Emperor of Japan for mediation and protection the latter in reply says that if the foreign Ministers were alive and safe, every other thing could be easily arranged. Unless China does not wish to come to terms of peace, she ought to have sent the Ministers out under strong escorts, so as to satisfy the Powers that she is not lying. If she really had those Ministers under her protection, as she had openly declared that she had, then she shows no intention of hostility which the foreign Powers ought to take into account. Delay not! Take immediate action to have the Ministers sent out under strong escorts so as to gain the confidence of the world.

SAILORS AND SOLDIERS' CHINA RELIEF FUND.

The above fund has been started at the suggestion of Mrs. E. E. Scott, the wife of Bishop Scott, of Peking, and its object is to afford financial help to the widows and dependent relatives of the British Seamen, Marines, and Soldiers who have lost, or may lose their lives in this China War; and that part of the subscription raised be given to such who may be either from disease or wounds incapacitated. Subscriptions will be duly acknowledged in our columns, and should be addressed "Manager, Hongkong Daily Press, Sailors and Soldiers' China Relief Fund." When a sufficient sum has been subscribed it will be handed over for administration.

SPORT AND ANECDOTE.

By AN OLD FOEY.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

In my last letter the allotted space was filled without giving me the opportunity I should have liked to deal with a topic of considerable interest to lovers of cricket. I refer to the no-balling of Mould by Jim Phillips. Before entering upon purely controversial matter, I should like, also, to express my cordial appreciation of the alteration of the law which gives the umpire at the batsman's end the power to no-ball the bowler if not satisfied with the fairness of any delivery. It was really asking too much of the judge in the jacket at the other end to watch the bowler's feet and arm at one and the same instant. Now, Phillips is an umpire for whom I have respect—I respect his sturdy independence, and ungrudgingly acknowledge his lengthy and varied experience. But as I have never been present at a match when he has no-balled a bowler, I am unable to offer a word of criticism or pass an opinion—merely personal although this might be—as to the soundness of his judgment. It will probably be remembered that he threw overboard "Jonah" Jones, the Australian fast bowler, by no-balling some of his deliveries when the English team last visited the country over which the Southern Cross twinkles with such resplendence. Later on, when the Colonials visited the Mother Country Phillips filled the position of official scorer—a simple little fact which goes to show that no ill-feeling ranked in the breasts of the Antipodean cricketers. That he has seen as much of the game as here and there another is beyond cavil. Having interpreted the laws to the best of his ability one can acknowledge his disinterestedness without slavishly accepting the ruling, and when other impartial judges declare emphatically that they have never seen Mould throw or jerk, I at once take my stand on their side and say that during the many seasons I have watched cricket I have never seen the Lancashire fast bowler throw. I used to see him bowl every season when he played with Northamptonshire, so that my experience of his throwing are not those of yesterday. It is one of the knottiest points an umpire can be called upon to decide, but the decision of Phillips implies one thing very plainly, and from which there can be no getting away. It is an unpleasant thing to say, of course, but it must be obvious to everyone that either the rest of our umpires in first-class cricket are incompetent to judge of the fairness of Mould's deliveries or they have wantonly abused the confidence reposed in them by the M.C.C. by allowing him to go on throwing unchecked. Stay, there is one other alternative: Thomas, Farrands, Barlow, Shaw, Sherwin, Smith, Pickett, Richards, White, Richardson, may be right in the judgment on Mould's bowling and Phillips may be wrong. Which means that there is a direct conflict of opinion upon a most vital point in the interpretation of the laws of the game.

WORK FOR EXPERTS.

Just precisely the amount of experience that should qualify anyone to consider himself an expert judge of the game—or to be so considered by others—is not easy to define. A man playing regularly in first-class cricket for several seasons on end should certainly benefit by his contact with other players. Youthful errors of judgment should be repaired, views of the different aspects of the game broadened, and experiences ripened. Whether watching the game from the pavilion, the scorers' box, or the Press box, gives one equal opportunities, I should not like to attempt to decide. During a fairly long connection with county cricket in an unofficial capacity, I have heard more youths who have just begun their cricket reporting for newspapers commit themselves to the most decided opinions upon the merits of players bronzed in the pursuit of the game, upon the decisions of umpires, upon the lack of tact or judgment by county captains. Unfortunately for them alone—I really do not think either the players or the game suffer—they are usually allowed to go to the end of their tether for the simple reason that their elders do not take the trouble to heed the young lions in the den. But in the interests of the game I do think it would be well for the M.C.C. to appoint a committee of experts to attend matches where a bowler with a doubtful action is likely to be engaged. Umpires are not required by the law to be absolutely convinced of the fairness of any particular delivery, the point is that if they have any doubt about it the bowlers should be no-balled. Personally, then, I think a grave injustice has been done to Arthur Mould for some time past by reason of the gossip of cricket grounds and pavilions, and this in face of the fact that he has bowled against some of the oldest and most experienced batsmen in the game, umpired by men born and bred in an atmosphere of cricket. There are batsmen and batsmen, as well as bowlers and bowlers. The batsman who irritates me most is he who has always an excuse on the tip of the tongue who is always a good foot over the crease when run out (by the umpire), who never gets within inches of the ball when caught at the wicket (by the umpire), who avers that the ball broke a foot where out lbw, and who hints sententiously about "chuckers" and "so-and-so's" "fast one" when the middle peg has been upset. Umpires lay no claim to infallibility, and when they meet these querulous batsmen it should cause no great surprise if they sometimes give the bowler the benefit of the doubt. What a deal of good an impartial tribunal of experts might do in clearing up a few of the every-day problems over which the ablest of umpires are agreed to differ. In the days of my youth I was presumptuous enough to think I could bowl a little—sometimes faster than at other times—but I confess that, although I have tried the thing experimentally scores upon scores of times, I was never once able to alter the action in the swing of the arm and the work of the wrist without making a most palpable throw, and I am old enough—and obstinate enough, if you will—to pen my conviction that nine-tenths of the chatter about "chuckers" in first-class cricket is unadulterated moonshine.

WEAR AND TEAR AT CRICKET.

Except one has figured day by day in county cricket, reminiscences are not likely to be of any particular interest to the ever-growing number who follow the game. But there are those who both play first-class cricket and also write entertainingly on the game. At one time Dr. W. G. Grace used to contribute a column or so to one of the leading sporting weeklies, but I rather think he has given up the toil for some years now. I may have been mistaken, but I always used to think there were others who could tell the story of the week's cricket more brightly than did the champion in the columns of "Land and Water." The enterprise of the "halfpenny hysterical" leave little room for the man who treats of details, and we used to get more than enough of these, although it may appear presumptuous to say so, in "W. G.'s" special article. Dear old Fred Gale (the "Old Buffer") could write as charmingly on the summer pastime as anyone I used to read, but we miss his cheery columns now; perhaps he became unfashionable; maybe he has given way to younger critics. And of the younger school who gossip on cricket, I know no one outside the recognised school of cricket specialists who writes such a facile pen as C. B. Fry, the brilliant Old Oxonian. I am not always in agreement with the opinions of the hard-hitting Sussex batsman, but I always enjoy reading his "stuff" (stuff, let me hasten to explain, is journalistic for reporters' "copy"). Mr. Fry has quite recently been writing upon the change which is gradually coming over first-class cricket—the change that is marking the distinction between the merry, light-hearted, inconsequential, enjoyable play of the good old days, and the serious, exacting, tediousness of the cricket of to-day. It used to be play—the play that takes one away from one's self and brings sunshine and exhilaration—nowadays it is a task to be sternly, methodically, aye, relentlessly accomplished. The weekly tables of averages and the keen struggle for the championship has made a business of cricket. This Mr. Fry in effect says and I heartily endorse his views. Perhaps it is his intention to go a little further, and tell us all in good time how in his opinion this change is being wrought. Unless I am mistaken cricket professionals have always regarded the game as an arduous mode of earning a living. Some hundreds of capable professionals must also regard it as a more or less precarious way of earning a livelihood. The strike of the pros, at the Oval is too recent for us to overlook this phase of modern cricket. Not for a moment do I wish to anticipate Mr. Fry's opinions, but it would be most interesting to hear what he has to say concerning the amateur element in county cricket. The unpaid player can make his own choice; he can drop out of a team just when it suits him should he care to buy a piece of land, a yoke of oxen, or marry a wife. Should he, peradventure, choose to do either and forsake the game, the chances are that a professional player would find a berth. There is a deal of truth in what has been said about the toil and moil of first-class cricket, but I shall be very greatly surprised to learn that there is any widespread dissatisfaction amongst our amateurs as a class. It is for the benefit of the game that we should have a mixture of the two classes, amateurs and professionals, but that murmuring should come from the former concerning the exertions made upon them surprises me more than a little. In the lexicon of amateur cricket there should be no lasting place for the word imperative.

AMERICA'S TRIUMPH.

At the close of my letter I can only refer briefly to the wonderful successes achieved by the American athletes at Stamford Bridge grounds last Saturday. For once in a way the American athletes overshadowed our own, and long before the afternoon's sport was over one's thoughts went back to that ever-to-be-remembered gathering in 1881 when Myers romped away from our men in the quarter-mile championship. We were on our mettle that day, and thanks to Baby and Page-Phillips we held our own fairly well. But our American cousins last week showed us very plainly that we are not progressing nearly so fast on this side of the Atlantic as they are on the other. We may have a few good ones, but they have many. Ireland, indeed, cannot claim a single championship, and this after the glorious successes of Dennis Horgan, the Davins, Donovan, Leahy, Newburn, Flanagan, Hart, etc. There were too many brilliant performances accomplished for me to deal with in a single paragraph, and I must reserve detailed impressions for a future letter. Here, however, I must say that the men who impressed me most were Krusen, Bain, Baxter, and Duffy. Never have I seen anyone get over hurdles like the first-named, and I feel a little doubtful in my own mind whether or not I have watched a faster sprinter over 100 yards than Duffy. Baxter's high-jumping was something after the style of Byrd-Pages—a lot of spring and a bit of gymnastics. But he got over the bar at something over six feet, and that was a deal of doing. Duffy ran like a greyhound, and had won easily at 80 yards—looking round, as a matter of fact. But the hurdle race—ten flights of hurdles in 120 yards—was something to remember for ever and aye. I will not enter into details now, however; they are worth a letter to themselves.

BANKERS:
HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANKING CORPORATION.

THIS Company has been formed for the purpose of making by power-looms straw matting of the same description as that now produced by hand-looms in the neighbourhood of Canton (China).

The export of Matting from China to the United States has of late years become a most important trade, having risen in the last 10 years as follows:—

From 173,472 rolls shipped in 1889/1890
To 370,107 rolls shipped in 1898/1899 but, as usual, the quality of the goods has fallen away with the increased demand, while prompt delivery, to contract time, has become increasingly difficult.

Many attempts have been made to devise a loom which could be worked by steam to take the place of the crude hand-looms, used by the Chinese and Japanese, but success has only been attained by a loom which became the property of the Kobe Manufacturing Co. and which has since been brought to a high state of perfection by further inventions and improvements.

The promoters of this Company, having experimented with a small trial plant of 50 of these power-looms and introduced various further improvements suggested by their knowledge of the Matting trade and requirements of the market in the United States, are now satisfied that Matting made by such machinery must supersede that made by hand-looms, and have accordingly entered into an agreement with the Kobe Manufacturing Co. to acquire all the rights to the invention.

While experimenting with the 50 looms, some 10,000 rolls were made and shipped, and the reports on the later and better made shipments were all of a highly favorable and encouraging nature, the evenness of the fabric and the great improvement on the old hand-loom matting, especially as regards the selvage or edge, being particularly praised and commented on. One great difficulty was to get the machines to turn over the straw so as to produce a clean surface at the edges of the Matting; this difficulty was overcome some few months ago, and the looms can now, in the opinion of experts, turn out a perfect fabric.

As each power-loom can produce about 30 yards a day as against 6 yards produced by hand-loom, the saving in time is obvious, while the advantage of being able to rely on punctual delivery will be a great boon to dealers at home, who at present have to put up with much delay and loss of time in getting their goods.

The advantage is still more obvious to-day in view of the political unrest all over China, and the great probability of the present troubles in the North spreading to the South, in which case the matting industry in the districts around Canton is likely to suffer to such an extent that it may take years to recover, matting being entirely dependent upon the labour of the peasant class when not engaged in their ordinary farm work.

It is proposed to erect a Factory capable of running 450 looms, producing about 100,000 rolls per annum, on which it is estimated, at the prices recently obtained in the United States for the Matting sent there for sale, there would be a net profit of at least $11 per roll, or say $150,000. In course of time further experience and economies will undoubtedly improve upon these figures.

The promoters of this Company have, as before stated, experimented with 50 looms, and having acquired from the Kobe Manufacturing Company all the rights to the invention, will transfer the same to the new Company together with 50 looms and other machinery, stock-in-trade, goodwill, &c., for $350,000 (Hongkong currency), which amount will be taken by the Kobe Manufacturing Company and the promoters in shares.

The Capital of the Company, as far as can be roughly estimated, will be laid out in the following manner:—

Land, Buildings and Machinery	$470,000
Working Capital	180,000
Kobe Manufacturing Company and Promoters for Rights, Goodwill and Machinery, including Engine and 50 Looms	350,000
	Taken in Shares.

THE magnificent TWIN-SCREW STEAMSHIPS of this Line pass through the famous INLAND SEA OF JAPAN, and usually make the voyage YOKOHAMA to VAN-COUVER in 12 DAYS, saving THREE DAYS to a WEEK in the Trans-Pacific journey and make connection at Vancouver with the PALATIAL IMPERIAL LIMITED TRAINS
 FROM THE PACIFIC TO THE ATLANTIC WITHOUT CHANGE IN 100 HOURS.
 Close connection is made at Montreal, Quebec, Halifax, New York and Boston with all Trans-Atlantic Lines, which passengers to Great Britain and the Continent are given choice of.
 Passengers Booked through to all principal points and AROUND THE WORLD. Return tickets to various points at reduced rates. Good for 4, 6, 9, and 12 months.
 SPECIAL RATES (First class only) granted to Missionaries, Members of the Naval, Military, Diplomatic, and Civil Services, and to European Officials in the Service of China and Japan Governments.

The attractive features of this Company's route embrace its PALATIAL STEAMSHIPS
 (second to none in the World), the LUXURANCE OF ITS TRANS-CONTINENTAL TRAINS (the Company having received the highest award for same at recent Chicago World's Exhibition), and the diversity of MAGNIFICENT MOUNTAIN AND LAKE SCENERY through which the Railway passes.

THE DINING CARS AND MOUNTAIN HOTELS of this route are owned and operated by the Company, and their appointments and cuisine are unequalled.
